CMC CLASS CHANGES

Since 1997, the Community Media Center of Santa Rosa has offered its production members free fun and informative classes on a variety of production topics. Beginning July 1, 2008 CMC will start charging a small fee for some of the classes we offer. The new class fees will allow us to provide valuable training and materials to our production members still at a bargain rate.

Introductory courses will continue to be free, Single session classes will be $10, Multi-session classes will be $20, and One-Time workshops will be $10 to $20 per person. Low income members will have the option to pay for their classes through volunteer service.

Classes will continue to be free until July 1, 2008 so now's the time to speak to your mentor to sign up. Feel free to give us a call if you have any questions!

Want to learn how light your studio
production?
